Delivering Organisational Value

KPMG 2003, 2005: successful organisations have the following in common:

- Improved corporate governance through strategic alignment of projects to corporate strategy
- Delivery of value through benefits realisation
- Mature PMOs

2

Delivering Value

Successful organisations must:

- Align projects with business strategy
- Maximise value of scarce resources
- Balance their portfolios of projects
- Learn from others - benchmarking

THAT IS

- Do the right projects

As well as:

- Do them right (time after time)

Organisational PM Maturity

Organisational PM maturity; how to achieve it?

- Recognise need for maturity
 - Financial, regulatory drivers
- Define what maturity means to organisation
 - (do right projects, and do them right time after time)
 - Specific processes and procedures
- Assess current state
- Describe desired future state
- Develop a realistic means to achieve improvements

Organisational PM Maturity

The context of delivering strategy through projects:

- Whole organisation or parts
- Portfolio, program and project levels (domains)
- Process Improvement stages (S M C I)
 - Standardise, Measure, Control, Improve
- For PM Processes across all levels
 - Initiating, Planning, Executing, Controlling and Closing

- PMI's Program Management Standard
- PMI's Portfolio Management Standard

AND A methodology

- Knowledge – PM Maturity; Best Practices
- Tool to support assessment of current state
- Suggested paths for improvement

Elements of OPM3 Standard

Three, interlocking elements to the Standard

- _ Knowledge
- _ Assessment
- _ Improvement

Knowledge

- Organisational PM defined
- Organisational PM maturity defined
- What are Best Practices
 - Supported by capabilities
 - Measured by outcomes
- How to use OPM3

OPM3 Best Practices - Examples

Assessment

Self-assessment tool SAM)

New IT tool – ProductSuite (Launched April/May 2006)

- Expands capability to assess
 - User-friendly interface
- Effective management of complex data
 - Domain; Processes; Stages of process improvement
- Development of reports:
 - Maturity (% on Continuum)
 - Best Practices and Capabilities achieved (and not achieved)
- Data to make decisions on planning improvements

MyPrimavera2006

Improvement

- Supported by data from assessment
- Selection of improvement paths to meet organisation's own strategic needs
- Guided by data from the ProductSuite database (benchmarking data)
- Opportunities to contribute to:
 - Benchmarking data
 - Ongoing benefits

The OPM3 Cycle

Repeat the Process

Implement Improvements

Preparing

- Assessment will be lead by certified ProductSuite assessors
 - To ensure consistency
- Their first task is to work with executives to decide boundaries of assessment
 - Everything
 - Projects only
 - Specific parts of the organisation
- The assessment questions will be tailored to this brief

MyPrimavera2006

17

Assessing

- Standardisation:
 - Clear ownership of the process?
 - Is the process documented? etc
- Measurement:
 - Who uses the process?
 - How is it measured? etc
- Controlled
 - Are the processes stable? etc
- Improvement
 - Wide spread participation? etc

Prioritised 'path'

- The OPM3/ProductSuite Model will provide:
 - A graphical view of current assessment
 - A list of Best Practices that will deliver the selected Improvements
 - The Capabilities that will deliver these Best Practices - the 'path'
 - Outcomes and KPIs for achievement of the Capabilities and thence Best Practices

Planning Improvements

From the OPM3 (ProductSuite) Report

- And the original brief
- An appropriate 'path' can be selected
- And managed as a project
- On completion of the first phase of improvements:
 - Continue with phases identified in report
 - Re-assess to measure new organisaitonal maturity

MyPrimavera2006

24

Conclusion

OPM3 is a Journey

- Focus on an approach of continuous improvement
- The Journey will take time
- The core of the Standard must be supported by a knowledge of the PMBOK AND Tools:
 - ProductSuite to ensure
 - Delivery as planned
 - Flexible and appropriate reporting
